

Chocolate Angel Services

Service: Sweet Spotlight

Imagine yourself on a stressful working day, just picture it, e.g. around a new Product release, Go-Live or a monthly closing period. You leave the office for a meeting, everyone around you fixated to their screens. You return just 1 hour later to the building and suddenly everyone around you shows a genuine smile on their face. They look relaxed and ready to rock their work day!

You might wonder what happened in between. That is the typical effect you can expect from a visit of the Chocolate Angel as Sweet Spotlight!

Service: Happiness Sensor

The positive spirit generated by the Sweet Spotlight enables the Chocolate Angel to build a bridge of trust. She will use positive attention, a surprising sweet offer and a broad smile to reach out to your people, to let them speak up openly about their thoughts and opinions. Keeping this trust is a core element, that is guaranteed by sharing the results to you in a consolidated and anonymised form.

Brought to you as a Happiness Sensor report.

Service: Change Seismograph

Did you ever try to change the current way of working in your company? That is often a challenge, as it might look good on paper, but there is usually one unpredictable factor. The factor of the human being.

If you want to gain a deeper understanding how the change is perceived, you can ask for the Chocolate Angel to visit you and act as a Change Seismograph. With an unexpected, positive and personal approach, she will reach out to people and talk to them about the change. To fully open up, they need to know that they can trust the promised confidentiality. You will receive the results in an anonymised form which provides you with priceless insights into your organisation, prior, during or after a change.
