Service: Happiness Roadmap

Bringing the Chocolate Angel and her positive energy into your environment easily leads to conversations, sparked from this moment of HQCs (high-quality connections). By interacting in a positive spirit with people in your space she offers an open ear for all topics concerned. Feedback which is inspired from a very personal moment & collected in a face to face discussion. Such input collected over couple of months and several visits is brought back to you in a consolidated Happiness Roadmap.

This approach is also applicable in the context of larger events or conferences. Gathering feedback on the spot, no need to wait for digital survey responses which might never come. Or you want to engage your audience to ensure relevant topics are addressed during round table discussions on stage.

To define the scope, context and price tag for this service, please reach out to discuss the details. We are happy to provide you with an estimate to get your own Happiness Roadmap. Service is available in English and German, but we're sure we will find creative solutions if you need to include other languages.
